

Raytheon Aircraft

Beech

Hawker

May 5, 2005

REFERENCE – ANCO TECH

Dear Supplier,

Raytheon Aircraft Company recently received a letter from the Aviation Safety Inspector of the F.A.A. requesting any information on the use of titanium tubing from a company named ANCO TECH. A list of known companies that use(d) ANCO TECH was sent to the F.A.A. from Washington D.C. and the list is believed to have some gaps in it.

If you currently use, or have used this company in the past, please contact Charles P. Owen, Aviation Safety Inspector—F.A.A., at 316-946-4182, and answer the following questions:

1. Company Name
2. Company address
3. Quantity purchased
4. Was it for a Military project?
5. Was it for a Civilian project?
6. Was it any Titanium Tubing purchased from them between January 1996 and March 2004?

We appreciate your help in this matter.

Regards,

Integrated Supply Chain
Raytheon Aircraft Company

Cc/ Michael Hull, Steve Davison, Evan McCorry, Paul Archiopoli, Jim Dolbee, Larry Moore